AXA XL Ecosystem

AXA XL partners with innovation leaders, customers and technology companies to improve the management of risks through powerful technology. We aspire to lead the industry as the most innovative insurer for the most innovative clients.

What is the AXA XL Ecosystem?

The AXA XL Ecosystem is a suite of curated technology solutions, delivered through our concierge tech advisory services. Our mission is to advance risk management and technology adoption through partnership, innovation and invention. We accomplish this through our Tech Library and our Tech Champions and Ambassadors network, a team of deeply knowledgeable advisors to guide your tech adoption journey.

Our Ambassadors are an underwriting extension of our core ecosystem team. They are specialists in our ecosystem offerings and can help you navigate which of our services is right for your business and how these services match up and interact with our policy offerings. Collectively, our Tech Champions and Ambassadors are deeply knowledgeable advisors that can help guide your tech adoption journey.

Our core offerings

Tech Library

A suite of curated technology solutions, delivered through our concierge tech advisory services. We've leveraged our market presence to drive favorable terms with the right technologies to help our customers address their business risks and meet their innovation goals.

The environmental technology partners we offer focus on the following areas:

- Fleet telematics
- Data analytics
- IoT sensors
- Imagery and robotics
- Enterprise software
- On-line training
- Contract support

Tech Champions and Ambassadors

Our Tech Champions are risk engineering representatives for our tech partners by risk theme, and are paired with the risks they specialize in to help our customers navigate the connection between risk and technology.
